

Reflection

Identifying practices that distort actual student performance is the first step when creating a compelling case for changes in grading and feedback.

What grading practices can you think of that would significantly affect student outcome results if you were to improve them?

Grading Practice	Advantages	Disadvantages	Required Change
Elimination of the zero on a 100 point grading scale
Elimination of the use of the average			